1. Klicka på önskad bild i Bildarkiv:

The screenshot shows the website header with the name 'Anna Jansson' and a navigation menu: START, OM ANNA JANSSON, BÖCKER, FILMER, UTLANDET, BOKA, PRESS, ENGLISH, KONTAKTA. A Facebook follow button is in the top right. The main content area is titled 'BILDARKIV' and includes a sub-section 'NYHETER'. On the left is a large portrait of Anna Jansson with the text 'ANNA JANSSON Författare till böckerna om Maria Wern och Emil Wern'. To the right, under 'BILDARKIV', is a paragraph in Swedish and English explaining that media can use current covers or portraits. Below this are several small image thumbnails. The first thumbnail, showing two women, is highlighted with a red border and has the caption 'Fotograf Jonas Jansson' below it. Other thumbnails are labeled 'Fotograf Magnus Wennman' and 'Fotograf Lasse O. Persson'.
